BROCKTON ATTORNEY SHAUN P. McCaul APPOINTED TO FULLER CRAFT MUSEUM BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Brockton, MA – Fuller Craft museum, New England’s home for contemporary craft, is delighted to announce that Shaun P. McCaul has been elected to serve on the Fuller Craft Museum’s Board of Directors. A collector of fine contemporary craft and long-time, devoted member of the Fuller Craft Museum Community, Mr. McCaul recently completed the Rhode Island School of Design Certificate Program in Art and Antiques Appraisal Studies. A current resident and native Brocktonian, he is a graduate of Stonehill College and a practicing attorney with more than 20 years of experience in Real Estate and Estate Planning.

Whether volunteering his time as volunteer, overseer or ambassador, Mr. McCaul is always eager to share his knowledge and passion for contemporary craft with others. Generously contributing his time and energy, McCaul has made significant contributions to the advancement of Fuller Craft Museum’s mission and consistently demonstrates a shared commitment to the objects, ideas and insight that inspire people to explore life through the art of contemporary craft.

Fuller Craft Museum is located conveniently off of Route 24, a short drive south of Boston. Please visit www.fullercraft.org or call Fuller Craft Museum at 508.588.600 for more detailed information regarding upcoming and current exhibitions, membership, workshops and special events.
